

NELC MAJOR REQUIREMENTS WORKSHEET
Archaeology Track

Student Name:

Student ID:

Expected Graduation:

Email:

College Adviser:

- Methods: NEAA 20100 Archaeological Methods and Interpretations

Quarter & Year completed:

- Geographical Information Science: NEAA 20061 Ancient Landscapes 1 or GEOG 28202 Geographic Information Science

Course:

Quarter & Year completed:

- Methodologically Oriented Courses:

Choose three from a list of appropriate courses in the College Catalog or NELC website .

1)

2)

3)

- Electives:

Three courses in the archaeology, history, or culture of the region(s) of interest offered by NELC or another department

1)

2)

3)

- Languages : Two courses in a relevant foreign language, ancient or modern, chosen in consultation with the NELC DUS.

1)

2)

- Statistical Methods: STAT 22000 Statistical Methods and Applications or DIGS 20002 Basic Mathematics and Statistics for Digital Studies

Course:

Quarter & Year completed:

- Archaeological Fieldwork: Consult the College Catalog or NELC website for more information.

Quarter & Year completed:

- BA Research Project

*Majors must submit a BA Topic Registration Form, signed by their faculty adviser, by Monday of the tenth week of Spring Quarter in their third year. Registration Form Submitted:

The Research Colloquium (NEHC 29899) is required of all NELC majors. It is to be taken in the Autumn Quarter of the year in which the student expects to graduate. The seminar counts as one course towards the required thirteen courses for the major.

Quarter Registered:

Preceptor:

Faculty Adviser:

Research Project Topic:

The final BA project is due to the NELC office by Monday of third week in Spring Quarter.

Thirteen courses and a Research Project are required for a NELC major.

Total # of Courses Completed:

All courses taken to meet requirements in the major must be taken for quality grades, with the exception of the Research Colloquium (NEHC 29899), which is taken pass/fail.

Please refer to the undergraduate section of the NELC website for further details on the undergraduate program.